The theft of horses is on the increase...see below.

Use of mobile phones whilst driving and riding

As you are all aware the use of mobile phones whilst driving and in control of a motor vehicle is not permitted for any reason. Yet everyday drivers of motor vehicles can be seen using mobile phones to talk to others and to text. These people are undertaking anti social behaviour and as a consequence their actions could result in a collision, at the worst a fatalityby which time it is too late to be sorry!! From an equine perspective there can be nothing more disturbing than seeing drivers of horse boxes, trailers using mobile phones whilst driving on the roads.....and yes it does happen.

Remember no phone call or text is that important to make or receive whilst driving a motor vehicle on the road. Equally the same can be applied whilst riding a horse.

Be a responsible person and use your mobile phone only when it is safe and legal to do so.

Thames Valley

This is a Community Message from Aylesbury Watch Office on Friday 11 June 2010.

A burglary has been reported at a farming location on Ringshall Road, Dagnall between the 6 and 8 June. Offenders drove a vehicle across an adjoining cornfield and used it to ram the doors of a grain store. At this time nothing appears to have been stolen.

Also a burglary to an outbuilding was reported at another farming location on Main Road South, Dagnall between 8 and 9 June. Offenders forced the lock to the building and stole three chainsaws from inside.

Please continue to report any suspicious activity around farming locations and if possible obtain a description of any persons and the make, model, colour and registration number of any vehicle. Police would also like to hear from anyone that might have information in relation to these crimes. If you do,

This is a Community Message from Helen Evans, Horse Watch Liaison Volunteer to all members of Horse and Country Watch on Friday 9 July 2010.

With the possibility of hay and straw being in short supply and therefore more expensive, in the coming months, please think about ways of securing your hay, straw, bedding and forage.

Cutting the string of small-bale hay or straw will make it virtually impossible for anyone to walk off with it. Marking bales of haylage, bedding and feed with pray paint or permanent marker will make it identifiable and less attractive to thieves.

Hampshire Horsewatch Bulletin
(Incorporating Information From Around the Country)

13th July 2010

Hay is a difficult commodity to secure in closed barns, due to its combustible properties, but securing the area around the buildings should be a priority, using the best technology you can afford. Use lockable, metal feed bins to store your bags of feed. Review your security now by imagining how easy or difficult it would be for someone else to gain access to your belongings, and take steps to make it more difficult for thieves to help themselves.

Be wary of anyone calling on the "off chance" or looking around the property. Take note of them and the registration number of any vehicle used. If you are at all suspicious, report the incident to the Police using the non emergency number.

Advice on crime prevention methods for rural areas is available from your local Crime Reduction Officer. Telephone 0845 8 505 505 for your nearest office.
